BAY ST. LOUIS, MISS., FRIDAY, APRIL 28, 1933.

FORTY-SECOND YEAR, No. 17.

MEN FROM HANCOCK FOR REFORESTATION WORK TO LEAVE MONDAY

County Welfare Board Examining Men Thursday, Friday And Saturday This Week—To Entrain For Fort Barancas—Salary $30.00 Per Month.

Mrs. R. Bowen, federal representative in charge of the Welfare Board for Hancock County, announces examination of applicants for reforestation work for the government is in progress this week, beginning Thursday and continuing until Saturday evening.

Dr. C. M. Ship, county health officer is examining the men for their physical fitness. Men eligible are from 18 to 25 years old. Boys under 18 must have written permission from parents. Salary $30.00 per month, $25.00 of which amount will be paid direct to dependents, while $5.00 direct will be paid the employee of the government, who during the six months of his enlistment for this public work will receive food and shelter. At Fort Barancas, Fla., to which place the men from Hancock county will entrain Monday morning. Men will remain two weeks, going through a process of physical development and fitness. And found below the medical requirement will be returned home, expenses paid.

This work is in line with President Roosevelt's plan to help the unemployed, using their service principally in the Tennessee and adjacent territory, a work he discussed after his election while recuperating from his campaign.

Age Limits—18-25 (inclusive)
A man must have attained his 18th birthday and must not have attained his 25th birthday. If you are not within these age limits do not apply.

Unmarried men Only
No married men will be accepted for this corps. Unmarried men only are eligible. If you are married, do not apply.

Only One From A Family.
Being based primarily on need, only one application from the same family may be finally approved. Records will be carefully checked in this respect.

Citizenship and Residence.
Applicants must be citizens of the United States (either native born or naturalized) and must have been bona fide residents of the county not less than six months prior to date of application.

Must Not Be Taken From School.
The period of enlistment is for six months, and is not a summer vacation; therefore, boys in school or men still in college should not be encouraged to apply. Furthermore, the fact that they are in school or college would largely negative the idea of need or dependency.

Type of Young Men Wanted.
This peace-time "forest expeditionary force" should be made up of young men of character—men who are clean-cut, purposeful and ambitious—the finest young men that can be found in all the high eligible group. Participation in this Emergency Conservation Work is a privilege; the undertaking is one of the most significant experiments entered into by the American Government. The best men available are wanted.

DAY DREAMS.

I build air-castles 'most all the time,
And of course I day-dream too,
Of how I'd like to visit places,
We all have such dreams—Don't you?

I'd like to go to the South Sea Isles,
And bask in the sun all day
I'd forget all my troubles and cares,
And seek laughter, fun and play.

My best friend would be nut-brown girl,
With eyes as black as the night,
She'd have a bright colored "hula" dress
And dancing be her delight.

We would chatter and play together,
And swim in a bright blue sea—
We'd feast on choicest tropical fruits
For breakfast, luncheon, and tea.

I'd doze in a soft cozy hammock
Beneath the spreading palm trees,
To me the sweet odor of flowers
Would be wafted by the breeze.

And I would like to watch the divers
Dive down through the mystic deep,
And bring to shore sponges and rare pearls,
And things the ocean would keep.

If only my day-dreams would come true,
And my air-castles not fade
Right now I'd be on a South Sea Isle
Sipping fruit-juice in the shade.

WORK AND PLAY AT S. J. A.

S. J. A. HIGH SCHOOL PLANS INTER-CLASS TOURNAMENT.

Friday, May 5, at S. J. A. Gym

Did we hear someone say, "that basketball was over at S. J. A.?" It certainly is not. The Gulf Coast Tournament has become Ancient History (the Jays playing a wonderful losing game, too) but that didn't mean the end of basketball for the high school, for the girls are planning for one of the most eagerly-looked forward to events of the year namely, the High School Inter-Class Tournament which since its big success last year bids fair to become a permanent institution at S. J. A.

The four high school classes will draw for places and will be coupled according to the number drawn. The victors of the first two sets will play in the finals.

These three exciting games will be played Friday night at the S. J. A. Gym, beginning at 7:30.

A beautiful trophy will be awarded the victorious team. Admission will be 15c and 10c. Keep in mind the date and let us see you at the gym next Friday night.

SODALITY NEWS

Last week's Sodality meeting was strictly a business one. Each Sodality was given a slip of paper on which she was to note the total sum of the spiritual activities she had performed during the Lenten season; principally—Masses, Communions and Rosaries. The Sodality, Prefect explained that a report of these activities had to be sent to the Diocesan Director of the Propagation of the Faith, the Reverend Father Bowe.

The annual Easter egg hunt given by the Children of Mary was discussed and it was decided to have the affair on Monday, April 24. Donations of prizes and eggs were requested and the Sodalists responded generously.

MISSION ACTIVITIES.

During the Sodality meeting, the President of each of the High School classes was asked to give a report of the Mission activity which had been sponsored by her class prior to the Easter holidays.

The Freshmen reported a pop-corn sale which had netted them two dollars and twenty cents.

The Sophomores told of a cake raffle through which they realized three dollars and eighty five cents.

The Juniors' activity proved the most profitable of all. There was a luncheon sale by which they cleared four dollars and ten cents.

The Seniors made no report as their proposed activity an ice cream sale, had to be postponed to a later date.

Each class has planned to raise at least five dollars for the Missions. The money will be sent to the Diocesan headquarters of the Propagation of the Faith and from there will go to the most needy Missions of Mississippi or to the foreign Mission for the ransom of Pagan babies.

CHILDREN OF MARY SPONSOR EGG HUNT.

Event Goes Over Big

The egg hunt annually sponsored by the Children of Mary took place Monday after school. A little late we agree, Easter seems already so far gone, but in spite of this fact and contrary to all expectations the event went over big.

Two separate hunts were held, one for the larger girls from the Fifth Grade through the High School and the other for the tots from the 4th Grade down. There were "eggs" galore and "fun" galore for all and even the large girls admitted they had a good time.

Among the smaller group Laura Geoffrey won the prize for finding the most eggs, her hunt resulting in fifty eggs. Norma Doleac found the "gold" egg, and John Plouffe the silver "egg" for which distinction each was given an extra prize. The entrance prize was won by Naomi Manieri.

Among the larger girls, Catherine Lennaux won the entrance prize, a lovely home-made cake. Evelyn Perre and George Vignes were given special prizes for finding the gold and the silver eggs, respectively. Annabelle Arnold the smallest among the larger girls found the

GULFPORT BAND WINS LAURELS AT CONTEST HELD LAST SATURDAY

Coast City Musicians Become Champions of State—Bay St. Louis Not in Contest.

Gulfport high school musicians Saturday held the Mississippi band championship.

A compilation of events in the annual band contest held at Gulfport this year in connection with Gulfport's celebration of its 30th anniversary as a deep sea port, showed the local musicians won a majority of points.

Other schools winning high places included Greenwood, Columbus, University high school, Meridian, Clarksdale, Biloxi, McComb, West Point, Hazlehurst, Long Beach and Crystal Springs.

Bay St. Louis Municipal Band participated in the parade and festivities of the day but did not enter the contest as this test was only for school bands. It might be noted here the Bay Band made a splendid showing with their new uniforms, (supplied by Breath's Haberdashery, Bay St. Louis) and their music evoked the state since 1930, Mr. Thames said the commission had already built 200 miles of highway on federal projects and had hardsurfaced 100 miles. During this period no money had been made available by the state for road building purposes, he added.

Mis Ruth Ward, of Bay St. Louis, professional dancer and stage success, led the band with the baton.

PROHIBITION REFORM.

By CLAYTON RAND.

THE various straw ballots over the state are proving what The Guide has long suspected—that Mississippi is dripping.

While sentiment has been crystallizing rapidly toward prohibition reform it only became articulate when public opinion was outspoken.

No more effective group has joined forces under the banner of repeal than the Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform. By every natural instinct women have always been crusaders for decency and justice.

It was crusading minority groups like the W. C. T. U., the Anti Saloon League and the Methodist Board of Temperance and Public Morals that hoodooed the country into this great experiment.

Carrie Nation and her proverbial hatchet cut down many a cherry tree. Women usually get what they want. They now want beer, wine, rum, temperance and reform—and it won't be long now. God speed! For if the country needs any one thing more than another it's a REFORMATION.

greatest number of eggs and was given a chocolate basket filled with candy. Several races were held in both yards, after the egg hunt, providing lots of fun to the participants.

The Egg Hunt netted more than ten dollars which will be given to the gym fund by the Children of Mary.

WORK ON 'SHORT CUT' UNDER WAY

Commissioner Thames Says O. S. T. Back of Lakeshore To Be Resurfaced Soon.

State Highway Commission forces for the Southern District of Mississippi are engaged on the construction of the state's end of the Pearl River bridge on the new "short cut" between New Orleans and the Mississippi coast, J. F. Thames, highway commissioner, said at Gulfport Wednesday. He made no prediction as to when the "short cut" would be completed.

Discussing the condition of the Old Spanish Trail through Hancock county, back of Lakeshore, Mr. Thames said that defects will be repaired as soon as the roadbed settles sufficiently to permit surfacing.

Unless Mississippi sells some of its authorized read bonds with in the next 30 days, the state will lose the $3,000,000 federal aid money which has been allotted it, he said. With the $7,020,000 federal money granted the state since 1930, Mr. Thames said the commission had already built 200 miles of highway on federal projects and had hardsurfaced 100 miles. During this period no money had been made available by the state for road building purposes, he added.

ESTIMABLE WOMAN PASSES AWAY AFTER LINGERING ILLNESS

Mrs. Marie Antoinette Machado Buried Thursday Afternoon at St. Mary's

Mrs. Marie Antoinette Machado, wife of Thamos Machado, native of New Orleans, aged 54 years, passed away at the family home in Washington street, Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, comforted by the last sacraments of the Catholic church.

Mrs. Machado had long been ill, victim of an incurable malady, but bore her suffering with christian fortitude and died as peacefully and beautifully a life as she had lived.

Funeral took place Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock, Rev. Father Nellus Downing officiating, interment St. Mary's cemetery.

Mrs. Machado is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Thomas Arnold and Mrs. Roger Manieri of Bay St. Louis, and one sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Bolton of New Orleans.

She is also survived by her husband, well-known resident of this city and connected with the field activities of the Louisville & Nashville railroad company, and a valued attaché of the line.

The funeral was largely attended and the floral offerings were in great number, in memory of the loved one gone and in sympathy as well to the bereaved family.

LADIES OF METHODIST CHURCH HOLD SUCCESSFUL EXHIBITION

Four Prize Winners Over Long List of Entries—Held By Missionary Society.

Ladies of the Missionary Society of the First Methodist Church gave an unusual and interesting quilt exhibit Thursday afternoon of last week at the Masonic Temple. There were many and no two similar. Many were noted for the exquisite workmanship, unusual patterns and for age. It hardly seemed possible, gazing on this array that such a collection were possible in Bay St. Louis and vicinity.

Prizes were awarded as a recognition of skill workmanship. Mrs. (Dr.) Jas. A. Evans captured first. Her exhibit was a quilt of solid white, 50 years old. The prize was for "exquisite workmanship."

Second place, Mrs. Gray, pink tulip design, modern.

Third place, Mrs. Robert Fulton, quilt 74 years old and of beauty.

Fourth place, Mrs. Lejeune, silk quilt cabin pattern, 84 years old. Now used by Larry Weston, 7th generation.

A small admission of 10 cents was charged and the benefit exceeded expectations. In fact it was termed a financial success as well as an artistic one.

The ladies in charge are to be complimented on the success attained. It was a clever idea and brought out many pieces of home-made quilts that the public otherwise would never have seen. To say nothing of the occasion of a gathering of people.

Poplarville School Head Elected at Kilm

Prof. Thos. R. Hearn, for the past six years superintendent of the Poplarville public schools, has resigned to accept the superintendency of the Kilm Vocational High School. Mr. Hearn came to Poplarville from Bay Springs, Miss., where he was principal of the Bay Springs high school. He is a graduate of Mississippi College and has taken post graduate work at the University of Mississippi.

Under the superintendency of Mr. Hearn the school here has made rapid progress and is considered one of the best junior high schools in the state. During the six years that he was superintendent several small districts were consolidated with the Poplarville district and a $25,000,000 annex and gymnasium erected. He instituted a program of extra-curricular activities and the standard for teacher requirements has been raised to a most satisfactory degree.

Mr. and Mrs. Hearn have been active in church and social activities here and their moving will be deeply regretted by a host of friends in Poplarville and Pearl River county. Poplarville Free Press.

A NEW AMERICA IS BORN UNDER THE GUIDING HAND OF ROOSEVELT

FOR something more than one hundred and fifty years the people of America have enjoyed almost boundless freedom under a democratic form of government. For them to be suddenly yanked out of their lethargy and to find themselves under what might be termed a semi-dictatorship was quite a contrast.

As amazing as this sudden change, though is the fact that the most of these Americans like the change and are getting a huge kick out of having someone tell them where to get off and in responding to his commands with the click and precision almost of a trained military unit.

Freedom is a wonderful thing rightly used, but there is danger in too much of it. Perhaps that was one of the causes of the troubles the nation is suffering. It may be that this freedom has developed a disregard of the rights of others and encouraged extravagance and carelessness in both private, commercial and governmental affairs.

March 4, however, marked the national day of a new era for America. Then it was that the man now in the White House gathered up the reins of government. At once there could be no doubt but that behind the hands into which they had fallen was a brain of determination. Almost before the echo of his inaugural address had died away, the power of that determination was felt.

Within less than two months after he took up his abode in the nation's capital, this President—the man who in so short a time has won the admiration and respect of both political friends and foe—accomplished all this and then set about enlarging the scope of this house-cleaning process by inviting representatives of foreign powers to meet him in conference in Washington.

America is truly making history. News stories read like mystic tales from old Arabia. Practically every one in the nation has felt one or another of the moves of President Roosevelt. Some of them have caused untold inconvenience, yet everyone has accepted the decrees cheerfully. There seems to be a faith and a confidence in this man now at the helm of the ship of state and a willingness to endure temporary hardship in order that out of it may come a perfect order of government, in business and industry which will work for the mutual welfare of all—the high and the low.

No one will deny that the average American is game. He is usually willing to take a chance. Just now it looks as if President Roosevelt is a good bet. Be he Democrat, Republican, Socialist, Laborite, or what not the average American is ready and willing to do the bidding of the new president and give him every assistance possible in his heroic undertaking.

There came the declaration of war against starvation, the rehabilitation of the country by the provision of huge sums of money for national emergency conservation projects and the mobilization of an army of workers enlisted from the ranks of the unemployed.

MISSISSIPPI CAFE OWNERS ORGANIZE TO FIGHT FOR BEER

Petitions Urging Special Session Action Going To Conner

Jackson restaurant owners have formed a preliminary organization of the Southern Restaurant Association, naming M. Christopher as temporary president, Mrs. J. M. Black temporary vice-president and Theo Costas, temporary secretary-treasurer.

The principal objective of the state branch of the association will be restoration of legalized beer in Mississippi, to be handled in restaurants and other dispensaries.

Petitions signed by numerous restaurant operators in Jackson, Greenwood, Laurel, Winona and West Point already have been received by Christopher for presentation to Governor Sennett Comger asking that beer legislation be presented at an extraordinary session of the state Legislature. Similar petitions are being circulated in all cities of the state. The preliminary organization has called a tentative meeting of approximately 1200 restaurant owners for a convention at Jackson May 8, when a permanent organization is to be formed in Mississippi, with a view of spreading over the South.

LEGEND OF THE OLD SLAVE BELL.

(Which stood at Fontainebleau Plantation home of Bernard De Marigny, near Mandeville, La. This bell fell and broke on the morning Abraham Lincoln signed the Emancipation Proclamation which freed the slaves. It is now in the Cabildo Museum in New Orleans, La.)

At Fontainebleau, plantation old,
Of rich de Marigny
Mid scenes of laughter, joy and gold,
The bell tolled endlessly.

'Tis said when cast, this Prince of style,
Tossed in his Spanish gold;
One thousand dollars to beguile,
Which melted in its mold.

So thus its master brought it home,
To call slaves at sunrise;
Contented niggers fields did roam,
Toiling till daylight dies.

The bell there long swayed to and fro,
Its daily song to tell;
Its voice rang over Fontainebleau,
Whose scenes it loved so well.

It watched the old plantation long,
By Pontchartrain's merry lake;
It joined the waves in merry song,
And echoed o'er cane-brake.

But came the day when slaves were free,
Edict by Lincoln made;
Then with one groan fell listlessly,
The bell crashed in the glade.

The darkies sore perplexed turned pale,
Gazing in awe upon the bell;
No more its tongue the slaves to hail Useless beneath some spell.

Bernard de Marigny wept sore,
He rich and debonaire;
The bell for him would sound no more;
Predicting loss and care.

He, whose wealth did oft entrance,
At court and royal Bal,
He so beloved by King of France,
Leader of Carnival.

He felt it as an omen dark,
For lost his fortune soon;
Now Fontainebleau but dusty spark Like ghost beneath the moon.

The old cracked bell a relic sweet,
Of those old Southern days,
It rests while we its tale repeat,
Within Cabildo's gaze.

—RIXFORD J. LINCOLN.

ESTIMABLE WOMAN GOES TO REWARD.

RECENT death of Mrs. John A. Lang, resident of Pass Christian over a half century, if not longer, was the occasion for much sorrow and general regret.

Mrs. Lang had been married fifty years and it seems as only yesterday when both she and her devoted husband celebrated the golden anniversary of their marital happiness. Mr. Lang survives, as well as one daughter and four sons, all ornaments to society and who have taken their places in the affairs and successes of the world.

Mrs. Lang was best known perhaps for her charities and consistent considerations which she practiced at all times. A devout member of her church, with unshaken faith and practicing the precepts of her religion in her daily life, she was a woman of such attributes far above the average.

She had reared a large and successful family; she had been an active factor in the community and she was best known for her golden deeds.

Her funeral and the wealth of flowers that paid eloquent tribute to her memory well evidenced the esteem in which she was held by not only the community in which she lived but by the Coast section as well. It was a large gathering, perhaps one of the largest funerals ever noted in Pass Christian.

It can truly be said she had led a long and useful life. She had made the world better by having lived in it. Her memory will long live. The last resting place hardly needs a monument. She has a better and more lasting one, one that will outlast perishable granite in the final analysis of time and that is the memory of this good woman.

MILITARY AND NAVAL CUTS.

THE average citizen, The Echo believes, will approve the drastic reductions proposed in the economy plans for the United States army. The same may be observed in regard to the navy.

However, let us not forget that human nature has not changed, that no one people can safely do away with national defense and that the nations of the world do not, as yet, appear to be willing to live and let live on a square and impartial basis.

We feel sure that the responsible leaders of the government know what they are doing, and that there is no danger in effecting temporary economies in our military and naval organizations. Surely, the nation should not spend more than it can afford to pay for national defense, but let us not get the idea that the United States can do away with its armed protectors in the notion that "nobody will ever attack us."

History shows that nations which have neglected to provide for their defense have had their liberties taken from them. Stronger nations hold sway over weaker ones and powerful peoples rule the destiny of those who are not mighty enough to demand and obtain respect. Preparedness means protection.

L. K. NICHOLSON ELECTED DIRECTOR.

LEONARD K. NICHOLSON, president Times-Picayune Publishing Company, was recently elected a member of board of directors Associated Press, well-known world-wide gathering news association, recognized and established. There is no greater organization in point of scope, and where facts and truth must prevail, at all times. No report of any occurrence is colored or biased by the Associated Press reporters. Every story has to be accurate and there is no room for embellishment or any phase in writing permitted whereby the slightest personal opinion might be even suggested between the lines. Hence the Associated Press is an organization of vast influence and of general import. To be elected an executive is a substantial honor and The Sea Coast Echo feels that not only its personal friend has been recognized but that a neighbor and worthy newspaper publisher has been thus recognized.

This is an occasion for congratulation and well-wishing as well.

TIME TO BUY AND BUILD.

WITH present advance of prices in all commodities it is but reasonable to look for a sharp reaction in the matter of realty values that have been at lowest level.

It might be well for tenants to secure binding leases where rentals are low, if the landlord will, and there seems no better time than just now to buy real estate. Not in the speculative manner, but he or she who would buy a home or some property one has been looking for with a view of possession. Real estate will never be cheaper.

It is also well to dwell on another phase of the subject in discussion. The matter of building. Material is plentiful as well as labor, both are cheap. A dwelling may be constructed today far below the former price.

The Echo is of the firm conviction that the time to buy and build will never be more propitious than the present.

Never seek advice from a man who agrees with you; what you need is the argument of those who think enough of you to tell you that you are nearly crazy.

MISSISSIPPI LUMBERMEN AVER BOYCOTT.

PERHAPS the shoe is on the other foot in the statement that breweries are placing orders for kegs and beer cases in wet states, hinting that Mississippi lumber mills are being boycotted. Usually orders for anything are placed where the lowest prices obtain.

"Lumber manufacturers in Mississippi report that they have lost some mighty good prospects for orders from breweries for beer keg and beer crate material during the past week because of the state's adherence to the dry column."

They state that lumber manufacturers in other states are using a deadly propaganda against them; that competitors point out to the managers of big cooperage plants connected with breweries that they are not, and will not, get any patronage of consequence in Mississippi and therefore the lumbermen in "wet" states should be favored, even if prices quoted from Mississippi should be slightly lower.

"It is beginning to reach the proportions of a boycott against Mississippi," says one mill agent. "No matter how close we figure we don't get the business. It simply means that hundreds of mill and forest workers in this state are being deprived of employment."

Daily newspapers carry the report that in some places the dries are not patronizing stores and other places of business that sell beer. We dislike to believe such report. If it is so it does not represent the full American dry sentiment. At least, we do not think so.

In the midst of unemployment there are many complaints from those who wouldn't work if you handed them a job on a silver platter.

SPAIN LOOKS TO SCHOOLS.

IN the two years that have passed since the Republic of Spain was formed, more than 7,000 new schools have been built and equipped in that country. The program of education now being developed by the Government includes something like 30,000 additional new schools.

In the United States there has existed in the past a fervent enthusiasm for education. In recent years, educational facilities maintained by the government, have increased and the system of schools throughout the land has been greatly advanced.

The school system of Bay St. Louis and Hancock county is a part of this mighty agency which has meant so much to the development of the nation. Those who are about ready to seriously impair, if not entirely cripple, the public school system because of a temporary financial depression, should beware lest their remedy is worse than the disease they are trying to help.

This does not mean that there has not been extravagance in certain phases of school affairs outside of city and county. Possibly this has been because of too rapid extension of building facilities and may be, in some parts of the country, a too ambitious program of transportation. However, on these matters we are not so sure, but, at any rate, economies in school affairs should be rigidly limited so as not to impair the entire system.

The Echo has always been an advocate of better schools. We owe it to ourselves and our children. It is the best investment possible, both secular and religious schools. To impair their usefulness and expansion because of fault economy would be folly.

The ignorant, uneducated person is usually an individual of very positive ideas—all of them wrong.

GULFPORT'S CELEBRATION.

THOUSANDS of visitors assembled at Gulfport Saturday to participate in the celebration incident to the thirtieth anniversary of Gulfport as a harbor and deep water port.

Officials from the State, various adjacent counties and municipal representatives and others participated in the celebration which was one that Gulf Coast and State of Mississippi may well feel proud of.

A State band contest was one of the events during the two-day celebration and this music from over the State, some seventeen units in number, including the famous police band from New Orleans, added to the parade of floats and other features of the line. This is perhaps one of the outstanding events in the history of the Coast and it may well be added of the State as well. The weather, which has been unruly the past weeks, was ideal. The sun was out in ingratiating warmth and Jupiter Pluvius well remained in hiding. Every combination seemed to conspire in thorough union and the celebration was well an exemplification of the importance of Gulfport as a port, as the city of proportion to which it has grown and to the fact it is part and an integral factor of the development of both the Coast and State.

The next time a man tries to sell you something that is sure to make 300 per cent be unselfish, leave it for the other fellow.

PEOPLE SELECT GOVERNMENT.

WE are not among those who blame every catastrophe upon the politicians. There are crooked men in public life, no doubt, but it is also true that many of them serve the interests of their constituents. Mistakes of the head, and not the heart, are the rule, even though the consequences are as baleful as those of the other.

We are also not among those who contend that what this country needs is an administration of business men. If there was any justification in the idea that modern business men could run government successfully, even in the sole interest of modern business, one has only to read the sorrowful story of the abysmal collapse of business in all forms in the past few years to give up the theory.

Truth of the matter is that the people of the respective governmental units in this nation get about the kind of government they deserve. When voters are careless in casting their ballots for candidates when one votes for a man because he promises some privilege at the expense of the public and when entire families sell their franchise in an effort to keep the job of a member in public service it is about time to expect interests of the public to be neglected.

BATTLE WITH A LEADER.

DURING the past several years the word depression has occupied prominent place in our everyday vocabulary. We have had depression to the right of us, depression to the left of us, and most of us have had depression on top of us.

But the old rascal is weakening, his timing is getting rotten. His punches are fast losing their sting. He's really beginning to get wobbly.

A few rounds back he was battering our tummies, and plastering our jaws until our heads spun round like tops on a spree. Maybe a lot of us did kinda wish someone would throw in the towel and put an end to the slaughter. But that's all past now.

Somehow, we hung on and groggily swapped punches with this brute, depression, as best we knew how.

Then at the end of another fruitless round, we staggered into our corner of the ring, and found a new second in charge of affairs. That was back in March. Remember? He had a big F. D. R. on his sweat shirt.

First of all he gave us a hefty, good natured slap on the back. Spoke simple words of encouragement into our dingling ears. From a bottle labeled 3.2, he poured some amber colored fluid upon our parched throats.

And before the gong sounded for another round, he devised a complete change of fighting tactics. Golly, this fellow, Franklin D. Roosevelt, certainly knew his battle stuff. Fatigued muscles snapped back into action. The swelling diminished from our badly bruised eye, and our fists were itching to get into the fray. We were "raring" to mix it with this depression "palooka."

There was something about this new second that made us "snap right out of it." Burned us up with a willingness to square our chin, and fight. Our confidence in ourselves was born anew!

Biff, Bang, Slam—SOCO—Boy, oh boy, did you see that uppercut? Right on the button. Depression kissed the canvas, but he popped up again. That baby was a tough egg all right, but he realizes something has gone haywire.

We're after a knockout now. . . a decision won't satisfy us. Our vice second, F. D. R. has a mile wide grin on that ever-smiling face of his. He realizes that it will only be a matter of a few more rounds, and depression will be sprawled—toes up—full length on the floor.

The American people are really fighting now. A grim, determined, self-confident battle. . . And when the American people fight under sincere, red-blooded leadership—they always leave the battleground victorious.

TRY THIS ONE.

In the show window of a former San Antonio "beer garden," the owner has a home made novelty that attracts the attention of passersby. This oddity is placed in a bowl. In form it resembles a pastel tinted coral reef of fantastic design.

Fellow observers were unable to explain the composition, so we entered the place, and expressed interest kind, and willing to ease our inquisitiveness. We were told the object of attraction in the window was a so-called "depression flower."

This artificial flower-like novelty is composed of simple ingredients to be found in most household kitchen cabinets. Saunterings experimented with the formula given below, and the first attempt proved quite successful. Want to try it? Here's the dope:

HOW TO DO IT.

First, collect several pieces of charcoal, a sprig of cedar or pine—A pine burl may be suitable. Soak the charcoal and the selected object in water for 15 minutes. After so doing shake dry, then place charcoal in dry bowl to form a base. Lay the sprig or cedar or pine across charcoal.

Next, mix together in a separate container the following: 2 tablespoons ordinary household blueing, 1 tablespoon table salt, 1 tablespoon lime, 2 tablespoons plain water.

Stir this mixture. Pour over the sprig or pine burl. Then, with an eye dropper spread a few drops of mercurchrome about the paste coating. Within 2 hours or less, crystallization will begin. First the sprig will present fantastic flowery growths. From the added coloring will result beautiful bends of pink.

Should the first attempt prove successful, one might experiment with cake coloring for more elaborate color effects. Anyway, this offers a relief from the jig saw craze. Likely, this trick is nothing new after all. Assuming that it is, and if anyone thinks up some original scheme for improving this "depression plant," we'll be glad to get the information.

CIGARETTE TAXES.

Texas who pay court to Lady Nicotine also pay 3 cents state tax on each package of their favorite brand. The first cigarette tax stamps to appear were a bit larger than a postage stamp. These were gummed, and applied to the outer wrapper.

This method did not prove totally successful. Thousands of dollars went astray due to sale of reclaimed stamps by retail stores. It was an easy matter to salvage the stamps from discarded cigarette packages. One local tobacco peddler was found

GREAT TREK TO CHICAGO WILL BEGIN WITHIN A FEW WEEKS FROM NOW

Mississippi To Be Represented at Century of Progress—
Progress of One Hundred Years To Be Exhibited—Yesterday and Today Exemplified.

In scant six weeks the great trek to Chicago will begin. People numbering millions will come from all over the world to view the Century of Progress. Chicago has had the courage to celebrate her own centennial with an international exposition depicting the progress of civilization during the century span of her existence.

What amazing changes have been wrought during the past hundred years. The progress of this century includes the creation of practically every means of transportation and communication in use today. Present-day industry and processes of manufacture are all comparatively recent. The myriad things that minister to man's happiness and comfort, and the knowledge and devices that protect man's health and physical well-being, can almost wholly be assigned to this period of unparalleled advancement. Truly an imposing array, this century pageant of progress. No thousand year period preceding can near approach it.

The theme of the Exposition is in keeping with the occasion that gave birth to the idea. It is quite significant too, that this century of stock-taking definitely marks the closing of an era in history. Certainly the composite picture to be presented here will furnish lasting inspiration for still greater achievement in the new era just beginning.

Mississippi To Be Represented

Mississippi is to have a definite place in this spotlight of world attention. The millions that will marvel over the progress of the past century, will also be permitted to envision present opportunity and future wealth in the presentation that Mississippi will make at the Exposition. There is also a definite theme being carried out in Mississippi's participation in the world's fair. That theme is, "Sell Mississippi."

The Mississippi Committee—composed of Governor Sennett Comer, Chairman Ex-Officio; E. H. Bradshaw, Chairman; Secretary of State Walker Wood; and Commissioner of Agriculture J. C. Holton—has adopted the policy that everything done in connection with the Century of Progress must have a definite bearing on the general plan to sell Mississippi.

The entire exhibit has been planned with the sole idea of carrying out this central purpose. The displays in turn will be supplemented by an intelligently planned campaign of publicity and sales effort. Mississippi has before her the greatest opportunity in her long history to favorably impress the greatest number of people she has ever been able to reach through any one medium.

Life Time Opportunity.

It is highly important that full advantage be taken of this once-in-a-lifetime opportunity. This is not a county fair where one fills up space aimlessly with freak vegetation, relics, and the like. Mississippi is competing with thirty-four states, many of them heavily financed and with well-established reputations as desirable paradises for the new-comer. We want to impress the visitors to our Exhibit in such a way that they will carry away an enthusiastic desire to see Mississippi. We want to plant indelibly the impression that greater opportunity awaits them here. We must present a convincing picture, supported by convincing salesmanship, in order to do this.

The Mississippi Committee has caught the imagination. These men are capable and qualified to shoulder

SENATOR HARRISON ASKS DELAY IN FORECLOSURES

Loan Companies Urged To Await Passage of "Home Owners Bill"

Delay in mortgage foreclosures by homestead and loan associations pending final action on the home owners' loan bill was urged in a statement by Senator Harrison of Mississippi, who said he expected enactment of the bill within 30 days. "Pending enactment of the new measure," said Senator Harrison, "great injustice would result from foreclosures which are pending or threatened." Pointing out that the loan measure will "afford home-owners in general the same relief from mortgages which are afforded to farmers under the farm bill," the senator said that "foreclosures at this time, with relief in sight, would be all the more tragic."

Declaring the nation "appears to be well on the road to recovery," the senator adds "no selfish interests should attempt to run counter to the current by impoverishing those unfortunate home-owners who have thus far won the unequal battle against the forces of depression."

New Credit System.

Senator Harrison's statement follows:

"Less than two weeks ago the administration's 'home owners' loan bill was introduced in the Senate, and is now being considered by the committee to which it was referred. Necessarily, a measure contemplating an entire new system of credit to home owners, to the extent of more than $2,000,000,000, cannot and should not be enacted in haste, lest the possible benefits be endangered by inadequate safeguards."

"Congress will shortly enact the farm bill, with adequate and splendid provisions for relief from farm mortgages. Among other provisions, federal funds will be made available, as a part of a special $200,000,000 fund, for the redemption and repurchase of farms which have already been foreclosed. On Thursday of last week I introduced and secured the adoption in the Senate, of two amendments whereby, subject to the general provisions of the bill as to amounts and terms, federal funds are available with which to repurchase foreclosed farms where foreclosure was made at any time since Jan. 1, 1931, and irrespective of whether or not the owner actually made his home on the farm."

In Next 30 Days

"The 'home owners' loan bill' is for the purpose of affording to home owners in general the same relief from mortgages which was afforded to farmers under the farm bill. I now look for its enactment within the next 30 days with its benefits available to home owners of the nation within the shortest possible time thereafter."

"Pending the enactment and operation of these new measures, great injustice will result from foreclosures which are pending or threatened."

"All leading agencies, whether building and loan companies or what-not, should exercise every indulgence to delinquents for the next 60 to 90 days."

Against Ruthlessness.

"However much in order it might be to point the finger of accusation at the Hoover administration as being responsible for the tragedy of foreclosure, I urge that we let the dead past bury its dead, and that we look with faith to the future."

"That agency which seeks to capitalize the misfortunes of the American home owner by sweeping away his home at a time like this, wrecks not only homes and families but by the same token wrecks itself."

"No lending agency which acts with ruthlessness at this time will ever receive other than ruthless treatment itself in the future. Recognition of that fact is imperative for the agencies which may hereafter seek public favor of governmental cooperation."

Pleas For Aid.

"Countless letters have come to me in the past two weeks imploring aid to prevent unjust foreclosures. Such letters indicate that certain lending agencies are seeking to enrich themselves at the expense of home-owners whose loans are in arrears for small amounts, by foreclosing in order to acquire title in anticipation of rapidly rising values."

"Such a 'racket' not only deserves condemnation, but will prove, if carried on, the undoing of the 'racketeers.'"

"I therefore urge that all foreclosures of homes and farms be deferred, pending enactment and operation of the administration measures."

buying used tax stamps by the hundreds from newsboys.

Recently a new state tax stamp appeared unannounced on cigarette packages. This one is fool proof. It is absolutely impossible to reuse the stamp once applied. The slightest touch in attempt to remove results in the stamp losing part of its form. These stamps are furnished in large sheets. They are soaked in water, and the tiny stamps are then individually shipped from this sheet on to the package, it is said.

FORMER WAVELAND RESIDENT WRITES LETTER FROM NEW YORK CITY.

To the Folks Back Home—It is Easter Monday. But not like Easter in good old Mississippi, for instead of white suits and straw hats in New York it is a heavy coat and felt hat. I have been in New York since Nov. 21, 1932. Saw New York's biggest snow storm, which came just before Christmas. We have had plenty of snow storms, but this one was the largest.

My mother, Mrs. Sam Carver, sends me The Echo and I have seen the baseball team and the scores. If Bingham Bears will get my Pal Forest Favre to pitch for them, they will be hard to beat.

I have seen Jack Dempsey and Max Schmeling, Sharkey and Camnera and I will root any time for Schmeling, who seems to be the best of the whole lot. Even Max Baer, who meets Schmeling, June 8. I think Schmeling will stop Baer. Max Baer may train close to the Ocean at Jones Beach. I pass that way often.

I say that my jaw, which was broken in my last fight, is not so good. I will be up here until Sept. 10, yes I have seen the U. S. S. New Orleans launched, last week at the Brooklyn Navy Yard.

DUDLEY CARVER.

P. T. A. MEETING.

The regular monthly meeting will be held in school auditorium at 7:30. All members are requested to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Brockman and family were week-end visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. L. White and charming daughter, Janice, motored over for week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Chadwick had as their week-end guest, Miss Margaret Traina from New Orleans.

The baseball season will open at Waveland "Sears Avenue Park," Sunday, April 30. Waveland vs. Biloxi. A good crowd is expected to witness the opening game.

Mrs. J. O. Farror is visiting at the home of Mrs. E. G. Schwartz and will remain over for the election which takes place, Saturday, April 29, to cast her vote for next Waveland mayor.

GIVE A SMILE

I've had such a good day at school, Mother
Everyone's been nice to me,
Teacher, all day, was smiling and sweet,
Just as nice as she could be.

With the children, I played such dandy games,
What a lot of fun we had!
When I'd smile, they'd all smile, too,
Not a one that acted bad.

Do you know the reason, child,
Why everyone smiled at you?
Happiness is contagious,
When you smile, they smile, too.

So look for gladness, look for kind faces,
You will find them all the while.
And you give a smile to others,
They'll gladly give you a smile.

SOUTH MISSISSIPPI ONE OF BEST SPOTS IN WORLD FOR TUNG

Tree Growing and Yield of Nut Prolific—Section of State Leads all Others

C. C. Concannon, chief of the Chemical Division of the U. S. Department of Commerce, has returned to Washington after spending two weeks in Mississippi in connection with tung oil development in the State. While at Jackson, Mr. Concannon inspected tung groves and conferred with State officials and the Mississippi State Board of Development.

In a statement to the Development Board, Mr. Concannon expressed belief that tung oil offers the greatest opportunity in agriculture in Mississippi today.

Every other product of the soil has poor markets because of tremendous surpluses. Tung oil is a new crop in America and I can assure a good market for every pound produced for many years to come," said he in explaining his previous statement.

Continuing, Mr. Concannon said, "Your State of Mississippi is ideally suited to the culture of Tung trees. Climate, rainfall, soil and drainage combine to make south Mississippi one of the best spots in the world for this industry. It has a great future and I believe it worth developing or I wouldn't be here in my official capacity."

"The State Board can well afford to stay behind this development as it undoubtedly will be one of your greatest agricultural assets," concluded Mr. Concannon.

WITH THE MOVIES AND FILM FOLKS

THREATENED with several investigations and by a revolt of independent theatres, leading executives are considering their product and prices. Along this line Will Hays is threatening another drive against salacious pictures. He has collected newspaper comments and many letters from all over the country protesting against obscene films. However, the theatre-going public regards the Hays code as a joke and a farce and will believe in nothing said unless the results are visible.

Sam Kaltz, who once organized a large theatre chain, is planning to enter production and has secured the Four Marx Brothers for his first picture, probably "Of Thee I Sing."

Helen Hayes is expected to return soon for the feminine lead in "Night Flight." Clark Gable will have the male lead. John and Lionel Barrymore and Myrna Loy, together with Franchot Tone, Edmund Lowe and G. Henry Gordon, will be in the supporting cast.

Theodore Dreiser has given Sylvia Sidney, who has the lead in "Jenny Gerhardt," his conception of the book. However, he did not demand the right to approve the script and Paramount expects to avoid the future which greeted "An American Tragedy."

Dorothy Jordan and Joel McCrae's first picture as a team will be "Three Came Unarmed" instead of "Rafter Romance."

Katherine Hepburn is to be kept busy. She will be in "The Morning Glory," then with John Barrymore in "Long Lost Father," and then in "Little Women."

RKO-Radio is producing "Jamboree," about which little is known except that it is being made on the elaborate scale that went with "King Kong."

Loretta Young in "Midnight Lady," which is a purified version of "Nora," Wynne Gibson and Edmund Lowe will be in "Her Bodyguard" the romance of a bejeweled Broadway butterfly.

LOCAL SPORTS.

DARKNESS HALTS BINGHAM AND PASS CHRISTIAN GAME IN 10TH INNING.

In a season already notable for its good early pitching performances, Sam Schonemaker, of the Bingham Bears and Earl Cox, of Pass Christian have accomplished a feat that tops all the other one-run performances so far.

This pair hooked up in a mound dual Sunday in Pass Christian Park and after ten innings they were stopped on account of darkness. Cox held a 1 to 0 advantage until the 9th inning, when the Bears squeezed out and tied him.

The game abounded with thrilling moments and it was a fast, well played battle, consuming only an hour and a half. Some sensational fielding by both teams cut off runners at the plate on several occasions and was largely responsible for the 1-1 tie.

Schonemaker and Cox got some great support from their mates or otherwise the score would have been larger. M. Reinke at short played a whale of a game and J. Bing starred in center field for the Bears.

Come out and see the Bears play. For games with the Bears write, L. Favre, Star Route, Bay St. Louis, Miss.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

New Orleans, La., April 22, 1933.

Editor,
Sea Coast Echo,
Bay St. Louis, Miss.

Dear Sir:

Permit me to compliment you upon your editorial entitled "Reduced Railroad Rates," in your issue of April 21, 1933. Editorials such as the one referred to and others on timely topics contained in your newspaper undoubtedly do more to help bring back prosperity to the Mississippi Gulf Coast than almost any other thing could do.

So far there does not appear to have been any concerted movement on the part of any individual or group of individuals in an effort to secure a reduction in commutation rates from New Orleans to points along the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

It would seem that in times such as those through which we are now passing a reduction in commutation rates to the Mississippi Gulf Coast would have a tendency to increase the summer commuters and would largely offset the lack of summer visitors that might be experienced this summer by reason of the losses suffered by the people of New Orleans and surrounding communities.

If the railroads could have an experimental period of six months, decreasing their rates as they have done by 33 1-3 per cent, it would seem that they could do the same thing for the commuters—if only for the summer period.

I feel quite sure that if this movement was started, fostered and sponsored by your newspaper, results would be accomplished and many persons would be benefited by your efforts in this connection.

It is needless for me to add that you would undoubtedly have the whole-hearted support of the Mississippi Gulf Coast commuters, and I dare say, even that of the L. & N. Railroad.

Very truly yours,
S. STANFORD LEVY.

Side Quit Hurting, Got Stronger, Well; CARDUI Helped Her

Mrs. R. L. West, of Hunteville, Ala., writes: "I was weak and run-down. I had a pain in my side, and I kept losing weight. I grew nervous over my condition—this was unusual for me, for I am very cheerful when I am well and don't easily get nervous. I knew I ought to take something. My aunt told me I ought to try Cardui, which I did. I began to feel better. I kept it up until I had taken three or four bottles. My side quit hurting and I was soon feeling strong and well."

OF SOCIAL INTEREST

GRIEME-GLEASON WEDDING AT NEW ORLEANS.

A NEW ORLEANS society print gives the following account of the marriage of Miss Corinne Gleason to Mr. Francis Grieme, an affair of local interest, since Miss Gleason spent much of her life residing with her parents at the Gleason home in Bay St. Louis.

The marriage of Miss Corinne Legier Gleason, daughter of Judge Walter Lewis Gleason and Mrs. Gleason, to Mr. Francis Grieme of Cincinnati, Ohio, son of Mrs. Francis Grieme and the late Mr. Grieme of that city, was celebrated at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning at a nuptial mass at the church of the Immaculate Conception in Baronne street with the Rev. Father Daniel Kernighan of St. Stephen's Church performing the ceremony, assisted by Rev. Father Carbajal.

The church was elaborately decorated with greens, ferns, palms and tall baskets holding white roses which were arranged at intervals up the aisles and in the chancel. There was lovely music with Miss Blanche Briguegne singing several songs.
Mendelssohn's wedding march was the recessional.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a beautiful wedding gown of white satin on simple lines belted and with long, closefitting sleeves with a puff just below the shoulder. The gown had a deep shirred yoke of white tulle. The skirt was tucked from the waistline in the back and fell to form a train.
Her short tulle veil was caught at either side with clusters of natural orange blossoms of white gardenias.
She was a lovely bride.

The attendants included: Mrs.
Peter Alpaugh, cousin of the bride;
Mrs. George Riehl, another cousin;
Miss Isabel Swoop, Miss Betty Grieme
sister of the groom, and Miss Mildred Speack of Memphis, Tenn.
They wore frocks of Eleanor blue chiffon with tucked circular ruffles in the back and blue shawl collar trimmed with flowers of the chiffon.
Their slippers were in matching hue.
They carried arm bouquets of Pierson red roses.

Mr. Paul Moorman of Cincinnati, who best man and the other attendants on the groom were: Mr. Peter Alpaugh, Mr. George Riehl, Mr. Andrew Hilary, Mr. John Legier, cousin of the bride.

A reception for close relatives and members of the wedding party followed the ceremony at the home of the Gleasons in St. Charles avenue.
The house was decorated with greens, palms and fern and the greatest profusion of white roses.

Mrs. Gleason wore a handsome gown of high crepe chiffon with a deep cream lace top and brown straw hat and accessories, and Mrs. Grieme, a pale gray crepe gown with gray accessories and large orchid straw hat.
The marriage claimed widespread interest in the smart world of the two cities. Miss Gleason is widely and prominently connected in society and though never making a formal debut has taken an active part in younger set affairs. She attended the Ursuline convent and Miss Louise
S. McGehee's school.

Mr. Grieme, who is well known in the social and business worlds of Cincinnati, was graduated from St. Xa-vier's College there. Mr. Grieme and his bride have sailed for Havana and after a visit there will reside in Cincinnati.

JAUBERT-GREEN NUPTIALS NEXT WEEK.

An interesting event of next week will be the marriage of Paul Virgil Jaubert of New Orleans, and Miss Genevieve Green, of Bay St.
Louis, to take place at the church of Our Lady of the Gulf, nuptial mass at 11 o'clock, to which invitations have been issued. A reception will be given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Green after the ceremony.

BRIDGE LUNCHEON FOR MISS GREEN.

An affair claiming interest both in New Orleans and Bay St. Louis was the luncheon-bridge given Monday afternoon by Miss Winifred Jaubert, of New Orleans, complimenting Miss Genevieve Green, who is to become the bride of Miss Jaubert's brother next week.

The beautiful affair was given at the home of Miss Jaubert's parents,
Mr. and Mrs. Fortune Jaubert, 4717
St. Charles avenue.

TO COMPLIMENT MISS GREEN MONDAY AFTERNOON.

Mesdames John W. Bryan, Leo E.
Kenney and Hugh P. Burbank have invited friends to an afternoon at bridge at Hotel Weston Monday of next week complimenting Miss Genevieve Green who will become the bride Thursday of Mr. Paul Jaubert, a nephew of the three ladies. Quite a number of friends have been invited and this pre-nuptial affair will claim much interest locally.

Jones (meeting friend)—"Why the broad grin?"

Brown—"I've just come from my dentist's."

Jones—"Is that anything to laugh about?"

Brown—"Yes, he wasn't in and he won't be for two days."—Boston Transcript.

Every farmer should keep a careful record of his farm operations, to show what every crop costs to produce and also its sale value. Under this program unprofitable crops could be discarded.

As expressed by a recognized authority recently, "The farm program at this time must include the production of as many of those products as are possible to produce for the home needs, and growing of legumes for increased soil fertility. Productive soils mean low yield and poor farmers." This man also says, "The man farthest from the market is the man who does not have anything to sell."

With these statements from a man of recognized authority, we can readily understand that even though the market price for practically all farm crops are low, this is not time to let-down and quit. On the other hand this is the time to redouble our man-labor efforts, not only to produce all food and feed needed for the family and farm animals, but to grow such additional crops as will increase soil fertility so as to take advantage of opportunities as they arise.

With livestock as probably our major project because of its adaptability to a larger area of the country,
the building of permanent pastures
of carpet grass, legume and Mc-Neill clover is a feature that must be met if any substantial progress is to be made in livestock development,
in addition to the use of improved
sires.

Years ago when the family demands were few it was all right to let the cattle fight their battles against diseases and rustle for their food, but today there is no demand for such low grade cattle. Quality is the demand of today, and quality cannot be produced without careful attention.

The trench silo is a very cheap way of preserving succulent feed for cattle during the winter months when the old native grasses are unpalatable and unfit for food. Silage fed to cattle during the winter months helps to produce a better calf crop
in the spring by supplying a feed that will not only maintain body weight of the animal but actually make substantial gains. Trench silos are only possible where proper drainage is available.

County News

By R. H. BRYSON,
(County Agent)

WHAT SHALL WE DO ABOUT IT?

THE turn of events at our Nation's capitol during the past few weeks has been such as to make us feel more optimistic toward the future of our country—toward a return of property, but here in Hancock county with our natural resource—timber, gone, it is quite apparent that the future of this section must be based on livestock or crops from the soil.

While the legislation enacted at Washington has been encouraging and favorable toward industrial and agricultural recovery, its not a case of letting someone else overcome our present difficulties. Each individual must work out his own salvation.

This is not a time for planting of large acres to farm crops because of the unstable market situation, but too much land is lying idle on hundreds of small farms that could, with little work, be made to produce food and feed needed for the family and farm animals. There is no assurance at this time that the Welfare Relief Organization will be able to render assistance this fall and next winter, and now with the growing season, at hand, it would seem advisable for everyone to produce as much food crops as possible. Some people complain of poor yields, and it may seem rather hard to make this statement, but when the truth is known, they have been taking crops from the soil without putting any plan food back.
The soil is hungry. You cannot do your best work when hungry, so why expect the soil to feed you when you have not been willing to feed the soil?

Every farmer should keep a careful record of his farm operations, to show what every crop costs to produce and also its sale value. Under this program unprofitable crops could
be discarded.

As expressed by a recognized au-

arise.

With livestock as probably our
major project because of its adapta-
bility to a larger area of the country,
the building of permanent pastures
of carpet grass, legume and Mc-Neill clover is a feature that must be met if any substantial progress is
to be made in livestock development,
in addition to the use of improved
sires.

Years ago when the family demands were few it was all right to let the cattle fight their battles against diseases and rustle for their food, but today there is no demand
for such low grade cattle. Quality is the demand of today, and quality cannot be produced without careful attention.

The trench silo is a very cheap
way of preserving succulent feed for cattle during the winter months when
the old native grasses are unpalatable and unfit for food. Silage fed
to cattle during the winter months
helps to produce a better calf crop
in the spring by supplying a feed
that will not only maintain body
weight of the animal but actually make substantial gains. Trench silos
are only possible where proper drainage is available.
